

ARE YOU COMPLIANT?

DON'T WAIT UNTIL ITS TOO LATE.

COMPLIANCE IN DANGEROUS GOODS .

Each Australian state have a large number of legislative publications that all licensed users must abide by for the storage, handling and transport of dangerous goods.

Legislation is often updated without any of the licensed users being notified.

These rules are enforced to ensure we, as part of any industry, operate vigilantly ensuring the safety and security while storing, handling and transporting any dangerous goods.

In the past year there has been an increase in government auditing at various storage and transport facilities due to an increase in incidents, accidents and audits failing in non compliance.

Not only does it leave your company or organisation open to safety implications, but it also can cause a large financial loss, in both downtime and fines if you are not compliant.

Management plans, internal auditing, training material or procedures can be reviewed, updated or developed to ensure your company is working to the required industry standard.

Speak to one of our consultants to see how we can assist your business in maintaining compliance.
